Bandit gave an award out to Jimmy H this week. We had a very mature conversation this week and Bandit was very impressed.

Mrs Warne's class have been enjoying reading and acting some Shakespeare this week. Several of the children performed a short extract of Romeo & Juliet in assembly. The acting was of a very high standard & impressed everyone.

Message from the Head

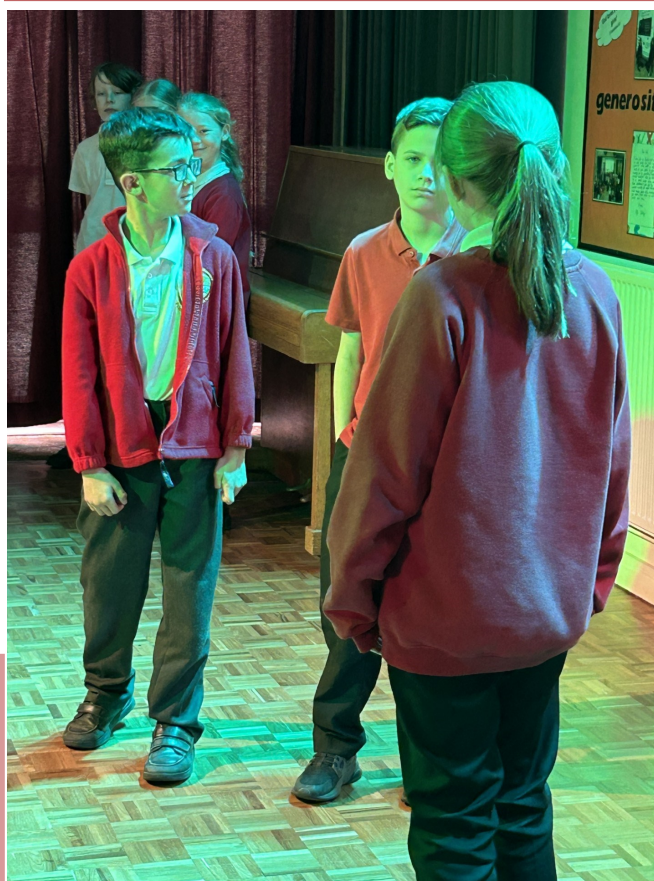

Dear parents and carers,

On International Women's Day, it is a privilege to work with so many gifted and talented female teachers and support staff to make Offley such a brilliant place to come to work.

It was a very successful parent's evening this week and I look forward to seeing many more of you, catching up on the progress of your children, on Tuesday. Please fill a form in as you enter the hall next week.

Have a lovely weekend

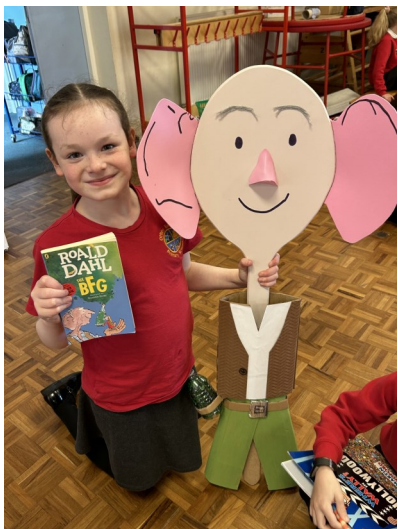

Mr Edwards and Bandito !!

UNIFORM - please ensure your children are wearing the correct school uniform. Trainers can only be worn under exceptional circumstances. Thank you.

Dolce Education Catering are increasing their prices after Easter due to food inflation and the 9.8% increase in the National Living Wage in April. Our Nursery meals will be £2.60 and Years 3—6 will be £2.95. We are still favourable to schools using Herts For Catering who currently charge £3.25 rising to £3.40 soon!!

World Book Day

We welcomed Polly Owen on World Book Day. The author read her book to different year groups and then the children asked her some really interesting and challenging questions about a number of topics linked to her career. Polly was very impressed with the high level questioning and was pleased that so many children bought a signed copy of her book. The children listened to a world book day assembly and paraded their spoons around the hall. They were very creative and the children had a lovely day.
