Message from the Head!

Dear parents and carers,

Just a brief newsletter this week. A reminder to all parents regarding staying safe online. It is becoming increasingly evident through conversations that children are having in school, that more and more children are using devices and accessing social media online. I ask that all parents monitor the use of devices and check children's activity online. Many of these sites are aged 13+ and so no children in primary school should be accessing them. We spend a lot of time in school teaching and discussing the importance of online safety, however we cannot limit their use at home. Please ensure you are monitoring access and use to keep your children safe online.

Have a great weekend. Mr Edwards and Bandit

It is always lovely to see Jo White in school. She shared a bible story linked to our Christian value of compassion on Wednesday. Jo was helped on stage by Lily H and Lucas. See you next week Jo.

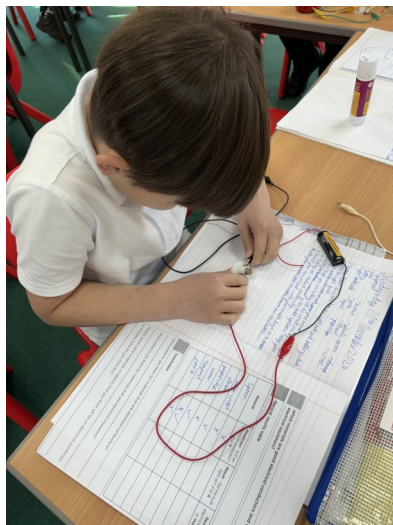

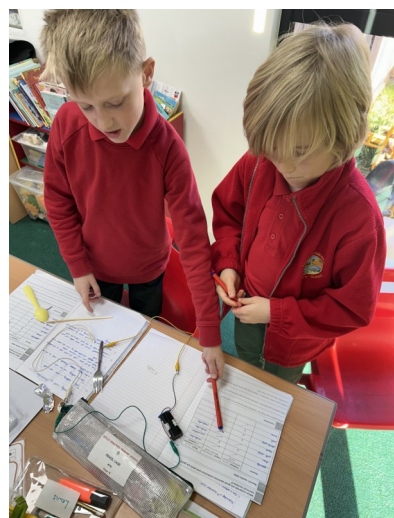

Our football team narrowly missed out on a trophy this week. They won all four group games and beat Codicote in the semi final. They narrowly lost to St Ipps in the final. All the team did Offley proud.

On my walkabout this week, Georgina was teaching violin. I watched Jake, Eleanor and Isabel play some Christmas music. I was amazed at how much they have improved since I last heard them. Year 4 have been learning about conductors and insulators in Science. They are testing different materials and making circuits in these photos.
